A Fluttering Feast

A flag? Just a rectangle of cloth handing from a pole. No more to be said.

Actually, there's much more. There are flags, and there are Island Flags. And once you've seen these unique displays, your thoughts about flags will be changed forever.

Island Flags offers Tasmania a whole new world of festive colour. Using fabric in novel and imaginative ways, they can transorm any setting—a private patch of lawn, a street, a park, bushland, a beach—into something truly special.

Imagine your bridal party making its way down an avenue of gently fluttering flags to your guests, waiting in the park under silken, medieval-style banners.

Or your simple beach ceremony enhanced by a striking array of white Balinese flags, their upright, elegantly curved lines transforming an open, empty space into a surprisingly intimate setting.

When you hire Island Flags for your wedding, you can draw upon a wealth of knowledge to create a feast for the eye—a unique environment for your special occasion. And if you decide your life needs flags, there's always the option of buying them!
